

Cookie Policy

Effective Date: April 2023

This Cookie Policy outlines how cookies and similar technologies are used on the Junior Premier League Website (referred to as "the website") and the choices available to you regarding their usage. This policy is intended to inform you about the types of cookies we use, why we use them, and how you can manage or disable them.

What are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are stored on your device (computer, smartphone, tablet, etc.) when you visit a website. These files contain information that can be accessed by the website or other websites that recognize the cookie. Cookies serve various purposes, such as improving your browsing experience, remembering your preferences, and providing personalized content.

Types of Cookies We Use

2.1 Essential Cookies

These cookies are necessary for the functioning of the website and cannot be disabled in our systems. They are typically set in response to your actions, such as setting your privacy preferences, logging in, or completing forms. Without these cookies, certain features of the website may not be available or function properly.

2.2 Analytical/Performance Cookies

These cookies collect anonymous information about how visitors use the website, including which pages are visited most often and any error messages encountered. We use this information to improve the website's performance and understand how visitors interact with it. These cookies do not identify you personally, as all data is aggregated and anonymized.

2.3 Functionality Cookies

Functionality cookies allow the website to remember choices you make, such as language preferences and customized settings. They enhance your experience by providing more personalized features and enabling certain functionalities. These cookies may also be used to provide services you have requested, such as watching videos or commenting on articles.

2.4 Advertising and Targeting Cookies

These cookies are used to deliver targeted advertisements and track the effectiveness of advertising campaigns. They may be placed by third-party advertising networks with our permission. These cookies remember the websites you visit and may share this information with other Organisations, such as advertisers. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an ad and measure the effectiveness of ad campaigns.

Third-Party Cookies

The website may contain content and services provided by third parties, such as embedded videos, social media buttons, or advertising banners. These third-party providers may set their own cookies and collect information about your interaction with their content. We do not have control over the cookies used by these third parties, and their cookie policies apply when accessing their services or content.

Managing and Disabling Cookies

You can manage cookie preferences through your browser settings. Most web browsers allow you to control cookies by accepting or rejecting them, deleting stored cookies, or notifying you when a cookie is being sent. Please note that if you disable or reject cookies, some features of the website may not function correctly or be available to you.
